These things I should have told you, and all men who have been chosen to rule the country, if, instead of treating us like entenies and forcing us to shandon our country, you had been hed to look upon us as men who love feally, and for the last thirty pears have been endeavoring to educate her in those sentiments of unity without which she will be lost once more.

The proposition I now make may be considered as imprudent, but cannot be considered guilty. I have sought to other sin than unity. It is for this alone that I have fought solong. I have always been, and ever shall be, unitarian in placingle before anything. Those who kno se may represen me with many famine, but will acknowless that my soul is too proud to stoop to falsebook.

Such, in fact, was the facility of almost every one of the fact of property fronting thereupon, nearly all of whom were ready to give their assent to the sale. It is to be borne in mind that, although Trinty sent of two-thirds of those owning the fronting lots. In the summer of last year, while Pest-master-General Buows was in this city, inspecting various kostities with the view of selecting a site for a beliefing to accommodate the City Pest Office, United States Court, and offices connected with the Federal Judiciary, he was favorably impressed with St. John's Park, believing that a spacious edities, erected in the centre of the grounds would meet the public requirements, and combine eligibility and convenence with strateging the takethe propertion into consideration, but the unexpected decease of Governor Enows terminated negociations. Having in view the propercous condition of St. John's Chapel, list day school and Sunday school, the latter containing upwards of a thousand scholars, and fearing that the sale of the Park, and the uses that it would be apprepriated to, would affect injuriously the spiritual wants of the peigliber hood, the vesty came to the Quidission that they would not entertain any proposition for its disposal. The vie of the park would have added two nundred thousand deliars of cash capital to the available resources of the parish. The property is at present estimated to be worth at least a million dollars, and if seld at the latter aum, would bring to the coffers of the parish one third of that amount.

The state of the state of the size Manufacture of Medalitems.

The French artisans produce very large medalitons by the process known as en offiches. The metal of which the medaliton is formed is used while in a pasty state, between solid and fiquid. Such medalitons, unlike mere elaborately wrought coins and medals, have a device on one side only, on which side alone they are intended to be seen. The metal caushoyed is fusible metal, which melts at a very low temperature. This being melted in an iron vessel, a little is taken up in a ladle, and agitated until it assumes a pusty consistency. Sufficient to for an one medaliton is poured on a piece of clean paper, placed in the hottom of a box enclosed on all a stamper is made to fail suddenly on the mass and impress a device upon it, which device remains when the metal cools. The device is produced in one of two ways. In one case, the original medaliton, which is to serve as a copy for those to be made, is used as a model from which a mould, en citches, is made, and this mould is stamper; in the other case, a dye is engraved, and this dye littel' is fixed to the stamper—the same results being produced by both means. The box contains a little simple mechanism for regulating the descent of the stamper, and to prevent the semi-liquid metal from splashing out. The medallions are made one by one and are generally finished by bronzing. The back and edge are brought true by turning in a lathe; and the medalition is then subjected to some one of many different rou lines of processes, any of which will impart a bronze-like color to the surface.

the appeal that is made, is himly to create great and dangerous divisions, is rather a delibate matter, but as this diversity of opinion is on a subject which has, I believe, occupied the minds of most men, and as my sentiments thereon have been fully and discidedly expressed long before the Assembly, either of Maryland of most men, and as my sentiments thereon have been fully and discidedly expressed long before the Assembly, either of Maryland or this desire, the content of your Legislature, it would have been given decidedly against a paper consistent, upon the general principle of its unity as a representative metal principle of its unity, as a representative metal in principle of its unity as a representative means for meaning unfouched in a word, his assessity areating from a want of species represented as greater than it really is.
